

DAVID ALLEN COMPANY

TILE & STONE

MASTERPIECES

"From the beginning, David Allen Company had the expertise, the people, and the positive attitude it would take to handle the work for our complex project. Day after day, their quick thinking team provided solutions with great leadership and quality work. They take pride in their work and it reflects in their finished product. David Allen should be a model for other companies to follow."

HISTORY

“Throughout the design process for The Umstead Hotel and Spa, we had a vision for the exterior stone cladding - a vision that David Allen Company was able to make into a reality. The result of this collaboration allowed the design and construction teams to deliver a product that was exactly what they had envisioned at the beginning of the design process.”

DAVID ALLEN COMPANY

“David Allen Company’s marble work throughout the Core Lab building and especially in the atrium is of the highest quality. The attention to intricate detailing was critical to the project’s success. Coordination and cooperation between the David Allen team, Italian suppliers, and the local designers was superb. Your team approaches each challenge as a true partner.”

- James J. Gaughan, Project Executive
Turner Construction Company

"Specifications for the Quintiles International Headquarters building required many high-end finishes that had to be shipped from Italy and other European countries. David Allen Company handled the procurement of these materials without delay and was able to get the finishes on site and installed as the demanding construction schedule dictated. They handled the job in a professional manner, from their pricing and submittal process to their installation and close-out."

PERFORMANCE

“We have worked with David Allen Company on many projects over several decades, one being the $200 million Raleigh Convention Center. Not only do we find the end result to be of high quality, we also rely upon their organizational and management skills. We often turn to them for technical advice because of the depth of their knowledge of the tile industry.”

HIGH POINT UNIVERSITY

EDUCATION

"It was truly a pleasure working with your team on the new Plato Wilson School of Commerce at High Point University. Your design staff provided a great deal of assistance in helping me develop the design for the lobby floor. Visiting the showroom gave me inspiration in how materials can be used and mixed to create beautiful surfaces."

ARTISTIC DESIGN & FABRICATION

“David Allen Company’s fabrication department was a pleasure to work with and extremely attentive to every detail of the process. They were patient with long approval times and project requirement changes. It is hard to think of an instance when I’ve received a higher level of customer service. We had developed an intricate design for a floor mosaic. The team’s waterjet cutting was well-executed and the labeling, organization and packing of the pieces made the installer’s job easier.”
