April 8, 2020

Could anyone ever dream just 30 days ago what the world we are living in today would look like? Social distancing, travel restrictions and stay at home orders are all examples of today's "normal".

This year David Allen Company is celebrating 100 years in business. We have seen good times like the previous ten years and bad times like the great depression and the crash of 2008.

Here's what we are doing to ensure that our commitment to you and our field craftsmen is as strong as ever.

- We will continue to provide services to our customers without compromising the safety of our employees and your jobsite team.
- Our full-time Safety Director is educating our field personnel on the ever-changing CDC, State and local regulations to ensure they are quickly implemented and followed.
- 100% of our team members are working, many remotely, to provide the support needed to keep our promises to you and our craftsman in the field. We are also sharing best practices with local and national trade organizations to help the construction industry stay safe.

We consider it our privilege to have you as a customer and want you to know we're here for you.

We leave you with this from Philippians 4:6-7: "Do not be anxious about anything, but in every situation, by prayer and petition, with thanksgiving, present your requests to God, and the peace of God, which transcends all understanding, will guard your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus."
